HOW TO GET RID OF STAINS ON DRAIN?

Q: Can Action Line tell me how to get rid of rust stains around the drain and the faucet on my porcelain bathroom sink?

Bill Sturm, Via e-mail

A: Try Magica Rust Remover.

You can order it directly from the company, toll free, at 800-236-1143 or through its website,

www.magicarustremover.com

Several South Florida

stores also carry it. Call or e-mail magica@athenet.net for the list. You'll find a before-and-after picture of a rust-stained sink on the website.

Magica removes rust stains from ceramics, concrete, Fiberglas and the like. It may dull highly polished surfaces such as brass and chrome and some ceramic glazes. Don't use it on glass. It will damage it. It works well on most fabrics, too, but test an inconspicuous area first.

Although it's pretty safe stuff, it's still a chemical, Myra Manser from Magica's headquarters in Oshkosh, Wis., warned. Rinse it off with water or with a damp cloth to get rid of the residue.

Magica comes as a spray or as a gel in a tube. Manser suggests you use the gel if you need to control where it goes.

Two 1.25-ounce tubes *cost $7.90, plus shipping and handling. It's also available in an eight-ounce spray or gel bottle. Order two for $19.95, plus shipping and handling.
